IN UNION IS STRENGTH

Martin J. Biliott Speaks on the Labor Question in General

READ, STUDY, THINK, ACT

One Fault of the Workingmen Now aye is That They Leave Everything to Be Done By the Leaders.

An open meeting was held last evening by the American Federation of Labor. Owing to the bad weather the attendance Owing to the bad weather the attendance was not as large as was expected, but there were vory few vacant chairs in the hall. President Pollock presided and introduced the speaker of the evening, Martin J. Elliott, a director of the A. R. U. who must soon return to Chicago to face the federal court for contempt, with which he is charged for the part he took in the great Pullman strike. Mr. Elliott is under $7,000 bonds and he expects to leave for Chicago in two or three weeks.

In his remarks last night Mr. Elliott was

In his remarks last night Mr. Elliott was frequently interrupted by applause, and had the entire sympathy of his bearers. He is very much in earnest. His strongest plea was for unionism and education. He said:

"There is one thing which we seem to the said:

"There is one thing which we seem to forget, that where we have $3,0,000 men in the unions of this land we have lifteen millions who never come near a union hall. The duty then of every union man, I care not to what union he belongs, should be to bring in as many as possible of the 15,000,000 men and teach them that unionism is high and holy, and help them to strike off the shackles which bind labor in a yoke that is slavery. Though Anaconda, though Montana, and even the great northwest may be thoroughly organised, this is but a small part of this wide world, and while you are receiving $2.50 and $3.00, and upwards per day, there are fellows even in Georgia, Pennsylvania and Tennessee tolling for a pittance that only sustains life. These men look with lingering to Montana and the high wages paid, waiting only an opportunity to seek employment here. Given that chance and Montana would be flooded with a tide of labor that all the unions combined could not withstand. "Carroll D. Wright, the labor commissioner, the man appointed by the United States government to gather statistics pertaining to labor, says the average laboring man produces wealth to the extent of $10.50 per day. How much of that does the workman get? The product of his muscle and the home of the brave. The producer receives but one-tenth of the result of his labor. He works 10 hours a day, nine for his master, the plutocrat, and only one for himself and lamily. Yet we claim to be a nation of freemen.

"Forty years ago nearly all manufacturing was done by men through the kiril re is one thing which we seem to freemen.

"Forty years ago nearly all manufacturing was done by men through the skill of their hands, but now machines everywhere are supplanting the workmen. Invention is all tending not to lighten labor but to reduce the number of men employed. Matters are getting worse instead of better, and labor is standing idly by or fighting to no effect against the fearful odds.

"There is just one thing wrong and I don't care, if you like it or not, I am going to tell you what it is. Organised labor depends too much upon its leaders. It says we have Mr. Gompers, Mr. Debs and Mr. Soverign to scheme she plan; they will emancipate labor and bring us out all right. These men cannot do it alone; every man must stand by them. The trouble is workingmen don't read; don't think for themselves."

The speaker paid his respects to General

them. The trouble is workingmen don't read; don't think for themselves."

The speaker paid his respects to General Schofield and General Merritt in very caustic terms and then took up the great railroad strike. The A. R. U. trouble in Chicago was not a strike, it was a boycott, a boycott on George M. Pullman for his tyranny. The A. R. U. said they would not handle his care and thereby abet or aid the plutecratic count of Italy in his oppression. Therefore his product was boycotted. Then the General Managers' association took up the quarrel and said we must not hurt George M. Pullman. They proposed to fight his cause and immediately discharge any man who refused to handle Pullman care. In five days they were beaten, the railroads were defeated and in their helpnessness the strong arm of the federal government intervened and we were defeated. Such an end is inevitable under such circumstances, it is proved useless to strike when government officials are ready to uphold capitalists by the courts and by power of force.

"But let each man do his duty. Vote for no man for office, especially for congress, that will not act in our behalf. Elect no man who will endorse such actions as those of the federal officers during the Chicago trouble. Circulate literature that treats of methods for reforming the rotten hulk. Vote for your friends and don't sit still while some other fellow does the voting or you will find past conditions repeated. If you sell your rights for prejudice, for dollars and centa you will be slaves to the end of the world. Study the questions of the hour and vote for your own interests and your friends and you will have caused a strike that will sweep from one end of this country to the other that no U. S. judge can enjoin. Take the newspapers, read them and act, we will soon abolish the conditions that now exist.

The "Galley Slave." The audience at Evans' Opera house last night was very well pleased with the rendition of the "Galley Slave" as given by the Charles Riggs company. The famous play was well handled and strong in every part. The cast was as follows:

This evening the great comedy drama, "La Belle Marie," will be presented. Incidental to the play a series of interesting specialties are introduced. The sale of seats indicates a large attendance, and a good performance is certain.

The Northern Cross

The owners of the Northern Cross mine have suspended operations for the winter. They have done a large amount of development on the property which consists of four claims at the head of Warm Springs creek on Cable hill, and, they contemplate building a 20-stamp mill in the spring to work the ore, of which there is a paying quantity in sight. Those interested are D. Cohen, Otto Stahlman, Dave Lewis and John Jones.

A Horse On Somebody

An interesting case is to be tried before Judge Rockwell next Saturday to decide the ownership of one sorrel horse. The animal is claimed by D. G. Brownell and by Con O'Connor. Some three weeks ago happily and one is divorced happily."

one of Mr. Brownell's driving borses escaped from the stable and, it was supposed, went to a familiar range in the hills. Yestdeday afternoon, however, replevin papers were issued for a horse in O'Connor's barn which O'Connor holds is his personal property. He says he owned the horse for some time. Both men are positive in identifying the horse and each has witnesses to support his claim. In the meantime the horse is in the custody of Deputy Sheriff Stebbins.

The journey will require about one month of constant travel. Mr. Winworth expects to remain in Africa about two years, and will return in time to vote for the next president.

The Riggs company made such a pro-counced success of the "Galley Slave" at Evans opera house last night that John Maguire has offered them a return engagement in Butte for Thanksgiving week, and also a return engagement of three nights more in Anaconda. This in itself is a big endorsement of the merits of the common of the merits.

Commencing Sunday, Oct. 28, the Butte, Anaconda & Pacific railway will put a new time card into effect. Time of arrival and departure of trains is as follows: No. 2 leaves Anaconda at 8 a. m., arrives at Butte at 9 a. m.; connects for St. Paul, Chicago and all eastern points. The Contract Awarded. A contract has been awarded to the T. J. Carroll company for the delivery to the Montana Union railroad of 50,000 fir ties to be used next spring in repairs along the line of the road.

Mr. Edwards' Badge Postmaster Edwards is justly very groud of a handsome badge which he reproud of a handsome bang coived yesterday from an army or in the East. It is the badge of the in the East. It is the badge of the Tenth Corps, to which the 48th New York Volunteer infantry belonged. Mr. Edwards served as a lieutenant in Company H. of that regiment. The badge has the shape of a four bastion fort, the most impregnable defense known in warfare, and within a gold border there is a blue field of enamel with the figure 48 in white. The badge is pendant from a gold bar engraved with the recipient's name, his regiment and company.

The arrivals at the Montana yesterday were: J. Peard, Chicago; T. G. Hatheway, Missoula; W. W. Walsworth M. D. Fleming and wife, Butte; J. E. Bradley, St. Louis; Charles S. Wright, Miles City; J. F. Kelly, Butte; E. Cur nenge, Paris; S. Wartenweil, San Fran-cisco; C. J. Sherword, New York; C. C. Fuller, Bozeman; A. Amhold, San Fran-

THE LITTLE SCHOOLMA'AM.

Speak of queen and empress, Or of other ladies royal, Not one of them has half the power Or subjects half so loyal As she, the little schoolma'am,

Who trips along the way
To take the chair she makes a throne
At 9 o'clock each day.

Her rule is ever gentle: Her tones are low and sweet; She is very trim and tidy From her head unto her feet.

And it matters very little
If her eyes be brown or blue, They simply read your inmost heart Whene'er she looks at you.

The children bring her presents, Red apples, flowers galore. For all the merry girls and boys This queens of theirs adore— The darling little schoolma am,

Who reigns without a peer In a hundred thousand classrooms This gayly flying year.

Tit for Tat.

A New York girl who is only seven years old one day last week gave tit for tat in a very neat way. She was trudging to school. earrying her luncheon in a little covered basket, when a schoolmate, a boy of nine, overtook her. He must have been in overtook her. He must have been in rather a bad humor, for his very first remark was: "Say, I wouldn't earry my lunch in a fish basket, anyway." The little miss turned and looked at him. He had his sandwiches and cake in a tin box under his arm. "Well," she said, "I wouldn't earry mine in a bait box." And the boy had nothing to say,—New York Times.
